

Constitution of the Alliance of European Voluntary Service Organisations

of European Voluntary Service
Organisations

PREAMBLE

The Alliance is a European based International Non-Governmental Youth Organisation of like-minded organisations not aligned to other structures at a European Level. It is a cooperation network of independent and active national organizations, which work together on the quality and development of International Voluntary Service.

The Alliance provides a structure that facilitates and supports events, projects and activities aimed at cooperation between its members and partners on technical aspects, exchange of knowledge and further development of International Voluntary Service activities.

The Alliance is an organization for its members, but also by its members. This is reflected in the structure, which is aimed at coordinating, monitoring and facilitating initiatives from members and primarily managed and executed by members.

Membership is open to national organizations involved in International Voluntary Service, in particular short-term voluntary projects – workcamps, as a tool of non-formal education and open space for informal learning.

Alliance members support and encourage local communities in organizing voluntary projects that answer the needs of the community and foster the active participation of citizens, especially young people, allowing them to encounter and understand different cultures and people.

Through International Voluntary Service Alliance members promote intercultural understanding, peace, democratic participation and equality, in the spirit of respect for universal human rights.

The Alliance does not impinge upon the autonomy of member organizations. The Alliance aims at the widest possible co-operation at a European and a Global level.
